Gifts That Girls Will Enjoy

Collar and Cuff Set for Christmas

Quaker collar and cuff sets of organdy are easily made and among the most fashionable of dress accessories. They make charming Christmas gifts, and may be made at small cost.

Shower materials, in cotton or linen, are used to make them, with hemstitching, narrow finger lace or embroidery in small sprays forming the decorative features. A quaker set edged with cluny lace is shown in the picture.

Gauze Bag Holding Puff Balls

Gauze bags, made to hold individual powder puff balls, are among the popular new fads that make lovely Christmas gifts. They are made of chiffon, silk muslin or gauze, gathered over a silk covered embroidery hoop. Hangers of light satin ribbon are fastened at each side of the hoop with a rosette.

The balls, of absorbent cotton, are finished with tiny bows of baby ribbon matching the hangers in color. As soon as used they are thrown away.

Flowered silk muslin makes pretty bags, with ribbon hangers matching the flowers in color. The little bows are sewed to the balls. The bags hang at the side of the dressing case for the convenience of guests.

Calendar and Hatpin Holder

An attractive calendar for a girl's room and a hatpin holder are shown in the picture above. The hatpin holder is merely a small pasteboard tube covered with moire ribbon with tiny brass buckles, handle and straps of a narrow ribbon. It simulates a golf bag and a hatpin imitating a golf stick goes with it.

The calendar consists of a circular piece having two small feet on one edge, cut from a sheet of celluloid. Two small oblong openings, one long and one short, are cut opposite the feet.

The face of the calendar is decorated with a painted nolly wreath and gilt lettering within it. Two smaller circles swing on a pivot back of the calendar's face, with the names of the months on one and numerals from 1 to 31 on the other. The tiny pivot is concealed by the lettering.

The calendar is supported like an easel by a strip fastened on at the back.

Will You Read This Twice?

A very important question to-day which every housekeeper must decide for herself is whether she prefers pure, cream of tartar baking powder like Royal or whether she is willing to use baking powder made of inferior substitutes which do not add healthful qualities to the food.

One kind is easily distinguished from the other, since the laws of various States require the ingredients to be printed upon the label. If anyone is in doubt which kind is most healthful, it is worth while to ask the family doctor. Then decide.

And when once a decision is reached let no advertisement or dealer's argument or canvasser's solicitation change the decision. It is not a question of a few cents or of pleasing a salesman. It is a question of health.

If this appeals to you as reasonable and sensible advice, it is worth reading twice. And it is worth remembering.

CATTLE DISEASES COST STATE $133,000.

Bulletin No. 17, issued by the State department of agriculture, tells the story of "foot and mouth disease," which has gradually exterminated cloven-hoofed animals from 50 per cent of the land occupied by civilized people.

It exists in Germany, France, Belgium, Denmark, Brazil, Argentina, the Philippines, Japan, China, and sections of Africa, while in the United States a fight extending over a year has driven it from nearly a score of States and left infection only in one county in Massachusetts and a large area of Illinois.

The outbreak a year ago cost $5,000,000 in the United States to stock raisers, and it cost Kentuckians $133,564.55. The cost in Kentucky was apportioned as follows: Jefferson county, $83,397; Hardin, $14,734.25; Woodford, $1,553.40; Oldham, $6,472.10; Scott, $4,663; Bullitt, $4,255.50; Jessamine, $2,238; Larue, $1,761; Shelby, $1,404.75; Henry, $450; Meade, $150.

SEA CITY OF QUAIL

In last during the season, immediately preceding the creation of the Game and Fish Commission, the Federal Government had sent that large quantities of quail were being sold in the northern part of Kentucky, and that these had not been shipped in violation of the Federal law forbidding interstate shipment of game.

The commission, after distributing these quail were all prosecuted, and as a result the shipments to the firm, the Government officials discovered that large quantities of the quail had been shipped out of Kentucky in 1911. It was being shipped from two points in Kentucky county.

All of the parties making illegal shipments were tried in the federal court at Kentucky and convictions were made in every case. The United States Government knew, in a general way, that shipments were being made from Kentucky, but in this work, as in other branches of the Government, they desired to help only those states who were making an honest endeavor to bring themselves.

It was the common practice of the sport clubs and restaurants in Kentucky, before the creation of the Game and Fish Commission, to annually sell large quantities of quail illegally caught and sold. A number of cases were made against one of the leading sport clubs in Kentucky, and we are pleased to say that this illegal practice has been stopped.

PHEASANT DISTRIBUTION

In March, 1915, a distribution of English ringneck pheasants was made by the Commission. These birds were purchased in England and shipped to Philadelphia, where they were received by a representative of the Commission and shipped in crates of fifteen birds, ten hens and five cocks, to each county in the state, where they were received and separated into flocks, two hens and a cock, and these birds were liberated by persons with whom the Commission had made arrangements, on lands controlled by them.

Reports from 73 counties show an increase of 2,656 birds, which indicates a gratifying condition and places the number of these splendid game birds at thirty in Kentucky at something above six thousand. Some of the birds were held in captivity, but in nearly every instance these experiments resulted in failure, but the birds that were turned loose and allowed to rear their own young, in practically every instance produced and raised a cocker.

The result of these experiments have so encouraged the Commission that another importation of pheasants is planned, and we hope to liberate three thousand more of these birds in the spring of 1916. The distribution of pheasants aroused great interest, and we received many requests for sets of eggs and purchased 500 from a game dealer in Pennsylvania, which were sent by parcels post to those who had applied. We also shipped 265 from the Kentucky Game Preserve on Pine Mountain, in Bell county.

The reports show that a large percentage of eggs did not hatch, and where birds were hatched they soon died, so the distribution proved a failure.

It is unlawful to kill any ringneck pheasant at any time of the year, and the Commission appeals to you for your assistance in protecting them until their numbers are built to permit hunting.
